These notes are recorded 24 hours after listening to this workshop – so brief notes from memory only and thus not very accurate... This Knowledge Seeker workshop is almost entirely focused on the Earth Changes that have already started and are accelerating on our planet. Having witnessed validation of MKs technology and former predictions coming true, I for one am taking this workshop VERY seriously – in any case I recommend a careful listen to this workshop...

MK in his initial announcements goes over the recent developments and outlines the rationale for now attaching our Magrav devices to a refrigerator – the evidence from houses in Rome and London show that after about 6 months plugged into a refrigerator the Magrav device is transformed into a generator. Then the system may be able to be detached from the grid, (more tests will have to be done) but must be Earthed with a grounding rod.

MK also reveals that the Public teachings will continue only for a few more weeks, and then he will be disappearing to China to work with the Chinese and the MOZHANS – basically he has now revealed everything, completed the teachings, and it is now up to us to go back through them all and find the pearls and gems of knowledge hidden amongst this ocean of 120+ knowledge seeker workshops, 20+ International workshops, 50+ Health workshops, and vast numbers of Kids workshop, Chinese workshops, Spanish workshops, and many other languages. The running of the International Kf will then be left to the Universal Council, which is coming into shape with representation from all races, all nations, all colors – into One Planet, One Nation, One Race.

MK goes into detail for a couple of hours on the changes he sees happening on the planet at the moment, witnessed by the unprecedented number of active volcanoes and earthquakes increasing around the ring of fire. What is in the immediate future is an eruption of the Yellowstone super volcano, which will devastate the North American continent. Also there will be a detachment of the South American continent from the North American continent at Panama – the South American continent is moving eastward on the underlying magma, which is moving anticlockwise around the planet. Now what is imminent is a major shift in which the South American continent will float free towards the North East, just like the Australian continent once separated from Pangaea. These changes will be devastating on the population of the whole planet but especially North America. There will be no more USA left MK says and the people who populated the US over the last 200 years will be trying to return to their ancestral homes. The events on the American continents will have a ripple effect around the ring of fire, and across the Atlantic to the European and African continents, there will be devastating earthquakes and volcanic activity around the planet. One of the safer places to be will be Eastern and Central Asia and Europe – Russia and China will be the leaders into the new peaceful civilization... This is the barest summary and for a full understanding people need to watch this workshop...
